Minor damage was suffered by the house and the car.

Plans for Mammoth Festival Building Toward Climax

With the huge Antioch Summer Festival less than a week away, plans for all portions of the carnival-like celebration are nearing completion.

Jointly sponsored by the American Legion and the Lions Club, other organizations are joining in preparations to help make the affair a success. Among these are the Antioch Moose, the Jaycees, and the Antioch Fire Department.

The program of events for the Festival is as follows: Tuesday (July 3), Carnival on the Public Parking Lot opens.

Wednesday (July 4), "Children's Day at the Carnival" (hours 1 to 5 p.m.) all of the community's children receiving ride tickets from village merchants will ride free.

Thursday (July 5), Band Concerts in the Festival area will take place in the evening (7 to 9 p.m.) Choir singers from Waukegan are on the tentative agenda.

Friday (July 6), Street dance in the Festival area will be conducted from 9 to 12 p.m. Bands will be made up from local talent.

Saturday (July 7), Carnival will be in full swing offering rides, amusements and games. Many booths, sponsored by such groups as the Art Club, Garden Club, etc., will be in operation. Beauty pageant judging at high school.

Tavern Shut Permanently

Lloyd "Red" Murrie, Antioch Township Supervisor and member of the Lake County Liquor Commission board, recently disclosed that the Mardi Gras tavern located on Wadsworth Road and Lewis Avenue has been shut down by authorities on a permanent basis.

The reason for the closure was attributed to the reluctance of the proprietor, a Mrs. Payette, to have her name appear on the tavern's lease. She was recently fined by Waukegan courts for serving minors.

The law states that the proprietor of any Lake County tavern must have his signature appear on the lease of any building in which a tavern is housed.

The establishment had been in operation for over five years before being closed permanently. The act by the Liquor Commission marked the first tavern to be closed on a permanent basis in Lake County.

Part of their rejuvenated activities, the closing is part of the commission's attempt to curtail infractions of the law, such as serving underage persons, in Lake County.

A. L. Feyerabend Dies at Age 58

Amiel L. Feyerabend 58, of Wildwood, died early Tuesday morning in Condell Memorial Hospital in Libertyville, from a heart attack.

Born Oct. 4, 1903 in Jerseyville, he moved to Chicago in 1924 and to Antioch in 1947, where he lived until moving to Wildwood in February, 1962.

Mr. Feyerabend owned a used car lot in Chicago for 12 years and was owner of Amide Feyerabend, Inc., a Studebaker and Lincoln-Mercury dealer in Antioch for 13 years, prior to October of 1960, when he sold his business.

Surviving are his wife, Edith; a son, Bruce; six brothers, John, Carl and Louis of Jerseyville, Paul and William of Chicago, and Leslie of St. Louis, Mo.; and three sisters, Marie Wock, Jerseyville, Lucille Maloney of Houston, Texas, and Alma Habing, St. Louis Mo.

He was preceded in death by a brother, Bert, in 1954. Services were held at 1:30 Friday in the Jacoby Funeral Home Jerseyville, with burial in Oak Grove Cemetery, Jerseyville.

Saturday's Flight Boosts Summer Show

In keeping with the general hoopla attitude of the oncoming Antioch Summer Festival (July 3-8) Dr. Albert A. Bucar, President of the Antioch Lions Club, ascended into the skies from Kenosha Airport last Saturday to "bomb" Antioch with thousands of flyers announcing the Festival's approaching hours.

Flown by Don Pittman of Pittman Motors, Dr. Bucar was right on target, hitting the corners of Main and Lake and other congested areas. Ironically enough, the flight was made upon the anniversary of the historic Har- old Gatty-Wiley Post trans-continent flight of the 1930's.

Professional Thieves Suspected by Police

Over twenty-five thousand dollars in jewels, watches and diamond rings were stolen last Wednesday night, June 20, from Keulman's Jewelry Store located on the east side of Main Street in Antioch.

One of the largest burglaries ever to occur in the Antioch area, the thieves entered the store by jimmying the front door with a makeshift crowbar, and, once in the store, looted the display window and counters of precious gems.

The thieves did not remove the loot separately but took the entire trays with them. Chief of Police Walter Scott stated he believed the burglars used pillowcases or large carrying cases to remove the trays.

Estimated time of the burglary was between 7:35 and 7:55. This time was set by the police according to those who stopped to window shop. Mrs. William F. Lit-zow, of Salem, noticed the broken panes of glass in the front window and the absence of the jewelry usually on display. After noting that the door was slightly ajar, she informed the Antioch Police department. The time of the discovery was set down at 7:55. At 7:30, before the burglary, a resident had been looking at the display which was then undisturbed.

The actual amount of time used up by the burglars was estimated to be between 10-15 minutes.

Called into the case by the Antioch Police, Charles E. Larson of the Lake County Sheriff's Office, took a series of fingerprints from both the display windows and front door of the Jewelry Store.

An inventory of the missing gems by proprietor Charles Keulman, disclosed that 200 or more diamond rings were taken along with 5 sets of combined wedding rings, 18 or more Amiga watches and over 100 assorted men's and women's watches.

The total amount lost in the theft was estimated by Keulman to be upwards to $30,000. Final inventories still remain to be taken.

Oddly enough, the thieves did not disturb the unlocked safe, but went as Chief Scott stated, "right to what they wanted. By the procedure, they seemed to know where everything was." He, along with sheriff officials, feels that the burglary was accomplished by professional thieves, a notorious band of young criminals, presently terrorizing small towns on the Wisconsin and Illinois border. So far, no leads have been established.

Keulman's Jewelry Store is one of the oldest businesses in Antioch, begun decades ago by Charles Keulman's father.

Chicago detectives are also working on the case. Keulman recently offered a $500 reward to anyone giving information leading to the arrest and conviction of thieves who looted his shop last week.

Antioch Milling Co. Torn Down Monday

The Antioch Milling Company building, long-time historical site in Antioch which dated back beyond the year 1900 was destroyed last week in order to make room for Pittman's new parking lot.

Located on Main and Depot Streets, the company ground grain and flour for farmers in the area for a number of years along with making feed.

A great fire swept the building in 1939 and in 1940 when the gutted site was again built upon. The only original pieces of the former structure remaining was the inside platform and the south shed.

Boat Explodes and Man Hurlled Free

A boat owned by Howard Moist of Broadway exploded and burned Sunday afternoon in the channel near Webb's boat house at Channel Lake.

The owner, who was aboard the boat when it exploded, was blown overboard and was not injured. The boat was destroyed.

Petitioner Seeks Rezoning of Lots

A public hearing concerned with the rezoning of two lots off Grass Lake Road from residential to business was conducted by the Lake County Zoning Board of Appeals last Tuesday at the Antioch Village Hall.

Filing the petition for rezoning was George Davidson, seeking rezoning in order to operate a home beauty shop. His lots are located on the west side of Pearl Street, in Grass Lake.

Entrant in Beauty Show

Judy Sorenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Einar Sorenson of Rt. 2, Antioch, is one of the entries in the Jaycees Beauty Pageant scheduled for July 3-8.

Eighteen-year-old Miss Sorenson is at present a Life Guard and Swimming Instructor at the Antioch Aquatic Center. She is a graduate of Central High School in Salem. In high school, she was a member of the G.A.A. for four years, was a junior varsity and varsity cheerleader, and was elected Senior Homecoming Queen.

In the fall, she plans to attend La Crosse College, majoring in Physical Education. Her hobbies are swimming, horseback riding and tumbling.

Fire Dept. Dance Saturday Night

The 49th annual dance of the Antioch Fire Department will be held at the Antioch Fire Station Saturday night, June 30.

Music for dancing will be furnished by King Jaros and his orchestra. The Saturday night dance will herald a gala week in Antioch, with the Festival activities starting on the following Tuesday.

TOPPLING TO THE GROUND is the weather-vaned peak of the old Antioch Milling Company, a one-time landmark in the village before 1900, serving to grind grain and flour for local farmers.

150 Persons Present At Church Ceremony

One hundred and fifty persons were present for the 10 a.m. ground breaking ceremonies for a new $43,000 structure to be built on Grand Blvd. for the Grace Community Church of Venetian Village.

Among those present for the ceremonies were Mr. George Reimer, architect for Wahlgren, Reimer & Larson of Chicago; Mr. Victor Schaffer, Building Superintendent for the Woodland Construction Co. of Lindenhurst, which is the General Contractor, and the Rev. John T. Dean of Grand Rapids, former pastor of the church.

The design of the church received the coveted "Best Progressive Unit Type Building Program" award at the Church Design contest held in Los Angeles. Building 1959 Nation-wide Evangelical plans call for the initial erection of a two-story combined auditorium and classroom unit. Rev. Dwight L. Reed is the pastor.

An evening Demonstration Program was held Friday in the Lake Villa School Auditorium to terminate the two-week Vacation Bible School. Mrs. Helen Miller was the director of the school with Mrs. Russell Webb, Mrs. Eleanor Howe, Mrs. Dwight Reed and Pastor Reed serving as Departmental Superintendents. The school had an enrollment of 200 and an average attendance of 140.

The annual Church and Sunday School Picnic was held Sunday afternoon at the Fox River State Park at Wilmet, Wis., with around 160 persons enjoying games, races, treats and softball with a pot luck picnic dinner climaxing the event.

The Grace Community Sunday School is having a "Who's in the Dog House?" contest to combat the usual summer slump. Pupils can keep their teachers out of the dog house by being regular in attendance and, by bringing visitors to the Sunday School. Special awards also are being given each week to those who bring visitors.

Mis-Managed Project?

Kennedy Construction company, presently laying water and sewer mains in the village, to the tune of a quarter of a million dollars, has been halted in its work schedule.

This delay is expected to last close to a month and can be attributed to many factors.

Kennedy Construction, following the village engineer's (Dave Miller) plans, laid pipe on North Main Street which is also State of Illinois Highway 83-21. In laying the pipe, the company, according to state inspectors, did not install the right size pipe or put it in at the required depth. Concrete, reinforcing the black-topping shown away in the installing, was shattered and state officials cracked down.

According to the state, the company did not follow the regulatory procedure in installing its pipe beneath a state highway and the state now demands that a state-approved contractor put in a new blacktopping job with more reinforced concrete.

This demand, if carried out, will cost an approximate $25,000 in addition to the present cost of the project.

The Chicago bonding company furnishing bonds to underwrite the project now refuses to allow for the additional expenditure not covered in the engineer's original "extra" specifications.

A stalemate of time has been established by the state's action and the project has been left hanging in mid-air.

This is, indeed, a serious problem. The half-finished sewer and water project is presenting a threat to the internal economy of the village plus posing the danger of an incomplete sewer and water system that might hamper an already deficient sewer system.

What is needed here is a clear understanding of the situation by the state and village authorities, and the necessary cooperation of both to work jointly toward the project's completion.

If this is not accomplished in the near future, we may see the vastly expensive and sorely needed project dissipate into a state of stagnation which will benefit no one and certainly not enhance the reputation of the village.

Your Governor Reports

by OTTO KERNER

In view of the increased demand of assistance payments upon the Illinois Public Aid Commission, I have asked the commission to make a complete review of their estimates and to reduce payments to recipients of public aid.

The decision for this action was reached only after weeks of thought concerning what could be done to maintain the solvency of the State of Illinois and to guarantee its integrity. Recommending reductions in payments to those people on welfare rolls was a difficult decision to reach inasmuch as we have a moral obligation to help provide for those less fortunate than the majority of our citizens. It was reached only after careful consideration of the alternatives.

An October 1961 report by the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare disclosed that the average grant per recipient of public assistance was higher in Illinois than in 47 other states. In the 1953-54 biennium, expenditures from the Illinois General Revenue fund for public assistance totaled $284 million. In the biennium ended July 1961, these expenditures totaled $483 million. If we continue at the present rate in this biennium, the total will reach an estimated $670 million.

In addition to the review of payments to recipients I have requested the commission to investigate thoroughly the administrative costs of the program. I do not recommend wholesale firings, but I have asked for a careful analysis of the duties performed by each person working for the IPAC and a determination of which positions are absolutely necessary to its effective and efficient operation. Furthermore, I have requested an analysis of the expenses of the commission in travel and mileage allowances.

All persons who desire work should be given that opportunity and those individuals who are not sincere in their efforts to remove themselves from the public aid rolls through employment, must be removed. I have requested the commission to proceed accordingly.

I have already ordered Code departments under my jurisdiction to tighten their belts and practice economy. This order, made last December, is resulting in a savings at the rate of $32 million for the biennium. I am confident that a critical review of the entire public aid program will result not only in savings but in greater efficiency and better performance.

I cannot allow the welfare needs of approximately four per cent of our population to destroy the fiscal security of the entire population of Illinois.

Home League Holds Show

The Salvation Army, at its Camp Wonderland located six miles north of Antioch, produced original skits, Broadway songs and a slide-illustrated lecture on Japan last Tuesday evening.

These were some of the events highlighting the 18th Home League Institute attended by 325 delegates.

The delegates were addressed by Commissioner Samuel Hepburn, territorial commander for the Salvation Army. Other activities featured in the Institute program were worship, service, education, fellowship and the home.

It seems strange to hear discussion in a serious vein of a possible Democratic Circuit Court Judge in Lake County, but here and there you hear them kicking around names of prominent Demo attorneys who might wind up on the Circuit Court bench.

This eventually would follow the on-again, off-again appointment of Circuit Judge Bernard M. Decker to the Federal bench since there is less than a year remaining on Judge Decker's term.

If the Waukegan jurist is promoted to the Federal bench his present post would be filled by Gov. Otto Kerner by appointment and it is more than probable that such an appointment would be made from the ranks of loyal Democratic barristers.

Judge Decker's appointment was an any-day now situation back in April and May, but was reportedly killed off, at least temporarily, by U. S. Sen. Paul Douglas who pales at the thought of a Democratic administration elevating members of the Republican Party.

It is more likely, however, that the delay was decided upon to give Gov. Kerner a chance to fill the vacancy.

Most prominently mentioned as possible appointees have been Atty Phil Yager, a Democratic standard-bearer in many losing battles, and State Rep. Jack E. Bairstow. Yager is now serving as assistant attorney general for this area, but would no doubt be willing to give up this post for even a short term on the bench.

Bairstow is serving his fifth term in the Illinois General Assembly, but will have opposition from another Democrat, John Matijevich, of North Chicago, in the November election and may be willing to give up his legislative post for the judicial office.

A few years ago Herb Shriner, the bucolic television star, used to delight his listeners with tales of exciting life in the small Hoosier town from whence he came.

One of his favorite comments concerned high life on Saturday nights when the town sports used to "go down to the town barbershop and watch a few haircuts."

We were reminded of this last Saturday and Sunday when we joined hundreds of other thrill seekers in driving down to Waukegan's lakefront on Saturday to peer enviously at the scores of sleek sailboats moored at the dock.

We hadn't seen that many people at the lakefront since the early days of the North Western Railway's Four Hundred, when the town sports used to hasten down to watch the yellow monster roar through town with a sneering blast from its air horn.

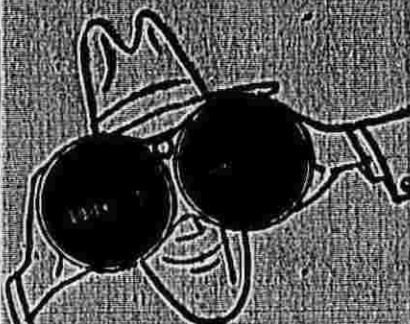

Sunday morning found another crowd at the docks watching the graceful craft begin their return run and then in the afternoon thousands clogged the area around the Waukegan Memorial Airport to witness dedication of the new building and risk sunburn on the roof of their mouths watching a trio of zooming parachutists.

It was a big weekend for the Waukegan Port Authority which controls both the waterfront and the airport. As we watched the scores of boats and the hundreds of spectators with that far-away look in their eyes we couldn't help but feel that Waukegan's lakefront would have made a better recreational boating center than a world cargo port.

When the county board's Finance Committee starts making out its new salary schedules this fall we are going to recommend a fat pay hike for Joe Cannon, head of the building and zoning department.

THE CURRENT exhibit of political cartoons at the Art Institute in Chicago should prove interesting to say the least to those attending.

Political cartoons are having a resurgence of popularity in the country's newspapers today it seems. This trend seems to stem from a few publications who brought back the use of them for innovation's sake—the Christian Science Monitor (Le-Polley), the St. Louis Post-Dispatch (Bill Mauldin of "Up Front" fame since moved to Chicago) and of course, the Chicago Tribune with its front page full of color cartoons by Parrish, looking, curiously enough, like old Currier & Ives lithographs.

In the great tradition of newspapering and periodical publishing the cartoonists linger on, working their daily sketches out with satire, humor, criticism and praise setting their themes.

The history of the newspaper cartoon in America is somewhat different from what is seen today. During the early eighteen-hundreds newspapers printed slanderous and libelous cartoons depicting noted personalities, financial titans and presidents as ogres, demons, sloths and other sundry forms. At the time of the Civil war, Confederate newspapers in Dixie portrayed Lincoln as a goat, pig, devil, murderer and just about every other derogatory form imaginable. Today Lincoln stands revered to the point of sainthood.

Financiers in the 80's were pictured by a New York newspaper cartoon as standing in a public bath in semi-nudity, their names printed on their heads and a long and libelous list of sins stretched, like ghostly tattoos, across their torsos.

While U. S. Grant was president, he was pictured time and time again by American cartoonists at drunken orgies allegedly taking place in the White House. Grant had a liking for whiskey.

Probably one of the most famous and most vicious cartoons ever to appear was published in Joseph Pulitzer's old New York World. The subject of the cartoon was William Randolph Hearst—Pulitzer's most prominent competitors. The cartoon showed a distorted scarecrow in rags writhing in inky pools of scum and mud labeled slander, libel, lies, yellow journalism, propaganda and the like. Placed on the scarecrow's unattractive body was the head of William Randolph Hearst wearing a delighted look. The caption under the cartoon read: "The Wizard of Ooze."

Although the cartoonists of today use considerably more discretion and tact in their satire and criticism, the political cartoon still serves as one of the most original and effective tools in maintaining a newspaper's editorial machinery.

A small consolation for those vehemently opposing augment his take-home pay. Recently he lured us to the golf course, hacked his way through nine holes and then coyly agreed to a bit of action on the home side.

I'm sure you know the rest of the story. Usually we can spot a hustler on the prowl for a live one, but we never suspected a county official of such treachery.

Since Cannon is too nice a guy to do this deliberately he must be forced into this lowdown trickery by necessity.

"In the Good Old Summer time. Now we can say it with real authority. Not only is it legitimately summer by the calendar, but our weather has really been playing its part.

Even the summer down-pour Friday night couldn't dampen the spirits of those attending the opening performance of "Teahouse of the August Moon." In spite of a thorough drenching as we all made a dash for our cars, two-hundred plus showed up at Smart's for the "After Theater Supper Party." The buffet looked lovely, but my schedule and my waistline, didn't permit my indulgence.

Still full of humor, the first graduating class of the Wilmot Union Free High School—1905, gathered together in their 67th reunion dinner last Thursday afternoon at the Wilmot Stage Stop.

The entire class, with the exception of Lilly E. Darby, who died 16 years ago, was present to celebrate the group's endurance.

Out of the seven graduating from the old school, which has since burned down, six remain. The School, first built in 1903 offered these students two rooms, one 50x40 and the other 25x35, and one teacher and a principal.

Those attending the dinner were Miss Grace Carey, of Wilmot and Mrs. Helen (Carey) Dobyns, of McHenry, whose younger brother is Irving Carey of Antioch; Mr. Henry Blin, a practicing attorney in Chicago who purchased orchids for the ladies;

Lake County Taxation Zooms Upward for Year

Lake County's tax bill this year has increased $1,808,072 over last year's taxation. The total figure of taxation for the year is $44,885,964. These taxes are currently coming home to property owners now receiving their tax bills for 1961.

The bills for the 1961 taxes were mailed one month earlier than at any time in the past years. This can be attributed to the Lake County Civic League's campaign to accelerate the issuing of tax bills.

The total valuation of Lake County property for 1961 stands at a record $1,087,781,504. Total valuation for 1960 was $1,062,603,677. The net increase of $25,177,827 reflects increases in two property classifications. In Miss Rosa Buffon, Kenosha; Mrs. Edith (Hatch) Allen of Green Valley and Mrs. Laura (Lottus) Ferry of Waukegan, who was the hostess of the event.

All of the graduates attended Wisconsin and Illinois universities or colleges and wound up teaching for many years.

The 12:30 dinner, held at the century-old Wilmot Stage Stop where third-generation Rodney Winn is proprietor, marked the fifth get-together of the group since its graduation. The old classmates met previously in 1940, 1955, 1956 and this year.

One classmate, Mrs. Edith (Hatch) Allen, has the distinction of having her grand father, Louis Hatch, known as the first white settler in the Wilmot area. Hatch settled in Wilmot in 1837, built the first house and put over 700 acres of land under cultivation.

A miss may be as good as a mile but it may still give a pedestrian heart failure.

According to the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company, motorists run a grave risk in taking a pedestrian's actions for granted. He may become startled or confused by a rapidly approaching car and change course suddenly. Always slow down when approaching a person afoot. Be prepared to stop quickly.

The majority of patients who recover from a heart attack are eventually able to engage in moderate exercise without trouble, according to the Heart Council of Lake County. In fact, the doctor may prescribe regular moderate exercise to help them keep well.

Veteran Movie Mgr. Buys Antioch Theater

By Jay Nash

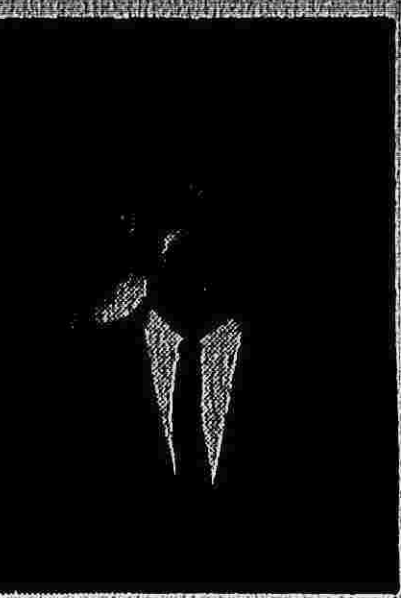

Bill Goewey, a successor and new owner of the Antioch Theater is Henry Rhyen, long on experience when it comes to theater management.

Rhyen, who has been the general manager of the Family Outdoor Theater in Grayslake since 1957, previously owned the Times Theater in Waukegan. He was also a part owner and builder of the Waukegan Drive-in.

Before his moving to Lake County, Rhyen was general manager of the Bernstein Theater chain throughout Indiana, Illinois, and Florida.

At present, Rhyen lives in Waukegan with his wife Maxine and their two children, Jeffrey and Kim.

When asked why he had entered the theater management business, Rhyen stated that upon graduation from Marquette University at the height of the depression—

MR. HENRY RHYEN (Antioch News Photo)

1933 — "there wasn't anything else around." He had worked his way through college as an usher at the Oriental Theater in Milwaukee to gain a degree in Engineering.

Claiming Milwaukee as his home town, Rhyen attended Riverside High School there. Refurbishing the entire auditorium's ceiling and walls, adding new decorations to the concession stand and general improvements are in Rhyen's long-range plans for the Antioch Theater.

Rhyen pointed out that the "picture policy" of showing first-rate movies, upheld by Goewey, will continue.

As president of the Lake County Theater's Association, Rhyen spoke of the trends in moviemaking today and what steps the industry is forced to take in order to survive amidst the competition of radio, television and other public amusements.

He stated that "75 per cent of those attending the theaters today are between the ages of 14 and 24."

When asked why there seemed to be no standout personalities in the younger set actors today and therefore less of a personal following than that of Clark Gable in the thirties, Rhyen stated, "the youngsters have their idols—Sal Mineo and Elvis Presley mean just as much to them as Spencer Tracy and Gable meant to others years ago."

Rhyen criticized the movie industry for running good themes, such as sophisticated comedies as "Lover Come Back" and "A Touch of Mink" into the ground. Extravaganzas with temperamental stars costing the studios millions "are ruining the industry," Rhyen stated.

Rhyen defended somewhat provocative movies such as "The Children's Hour," "Walk on the Wild Side" and "Sweet Bird of Youth," all carrying adult themes not to be shown to children, by saying that more time is taken in their production and the finished product is both "quality in technique and acting."

Antioch Resident Aids Hard-Put Foreign Girl

Miss Catherine Miller, of Antioch, through the Foster Parents' Plan, has "financially adopted" an 11-year-old Filipino girl, Sulpicia S. Palmos. Under this plan to help homeless and destitute children all over the earth, Miss Miller contributes a certain amount of money each month for Sulpicia's well being.

The organization is non-sectarian, non-profit, non-propaganda, independent and government approved.

The financially adopted Sulpicia lives with her parents, 9-year-old sister and three brothers in Manila on the island of Luzon in the Philippines. The child's father formerly worked as a carpenter, earning $1.60 a day. Unfortunately, he developed tuberculosis last year and is presently unable to work. Since the father's illness, the family has undergone many hardships and privations.

The child's mother is now the sole support of the family. She sells fish near the public market and earns about 50c a day. This meager income is hardly sufficient to care for even basic necessities of daily living for seven human beings. The mother cannot even afford to buy the necessary medication for the father's condition. Needless to say, the plight of the family is desperate.

They live in two rooms on the upper floor of a two-floor house. The house belongs to a friend of the family who was kind enough to allow them to live with her. Fortunately they have no rent to pay, as the friend is well aware of their dire circumstances. The place is located in the squatters' area where most of the houses are made of old wood. The neighborhood is terribly overcrowded and the surroundings are muddy and unsanitary during the rainy season. This is the home of Sulpicia.

Sulpicia is a shy little girl with long brown hair and a round face. She attends the fourth grade of elementary school and is considered a good student. In her spare time, she helps her mother with the household chores, runs errands, and takes care of her younger brothers. She is also fond of sewing. PLAN aid provides this impoverished child with a monthly cash grant of $8.00, periodic distribution of food and clothing parcels, and special medical care. Equally important to this vitally needed material aid, will be the heartwarming knowledge that someone cares and wants to help.

Who Dry Cleaned A Rich Man's Clothes In 1864?

The answer is, no one did, for there was no dry cleaning 100 years ago. That's why, as old photos show, even the best dressed men of the time looked sloppy by modern standards. Today in 1962, Cleaners have developed scientific dry cleaning methods for every type of fabric, natural or synthetic. That's why our cleaning is better cleaning. Try us.

A Newspaper Editor Asks: 'Who is Tampering with America's Soul?'

Truths told powerfully when they need most to be told can strike echoes throughout the land. A Tulsa (Okla.) editor, Jenkin Lloyd Jones, sounded such a note at a newspaper meeting in Chicago. Speaking with eloquent indignation, he graphically described the challenges of our times, asking, "Who is Tampering With the Soul of America?" In the hope that area readers will be as inspired by his call for a national moral overhauling as we were, the Anti-orch News reproduces his entire address herewith.

By JENKIN L. JONES
Editor, The Tulsa Tribune
(A speech delivered to the Inland Daily Press Association at Chicago)

This afternoon I am about to inflict upon you a jeremiad.

Long before the prophet Jeremiah uttered his lamentations about the evil behavior of the Children of Israel the world had seen many calamity howlers. We have cuneiform tablets describing the moral decay of Babylon and Chaldea. We have hieroglyphic inscriptions predicting that Osiris and Ra will smite the Egyptians for their wickedness. And so when I rise today and make some comments about the moral climate of America and about our responsibilities, therefore, as temporary custodians of America's press, I speak in a very old tradition.

The calamity howler! It is customary to dismiss such fogginess as I am about to display with a tolerant laugh. For while it was freely predicted all through the ages that the world was going to Hell, it hasn't gone to Hell yet. Who can deny that in all the crafts and certainly all of the sciences we are farther advanced than we ever have been? Why not be cheerfully optimistic?

I think I can tell you why. Human progress has never been steady. It has washed back and forth like waves on a beach. Happily, there has also been an incoming tide, so the waves have washed higher and higher as each great civilization came on.

But the pathway of history is littered with the bones of dead states and fallen empires. And they were not, in most cases, promptly replaced by something better. Nearly a thousand years elapsed between the fall of Western Rome and the rise of the Renaissance, and in between we had the Dark Ages in which nearly all of man's institutions were inferior to those which had gone before. I don't want my children's children to go through a couple of centuries of dialectic materialism before the sun comes up again.

Sad to Watch Start Of An Era of Decay

So the Jeremiahs haven't been so wrong, after all. It is sad to watch the beginnings of decay. It is sad to see an Age of Pericles replaced by the drunken riots of Alcibiades. There was indeed, just cause for gloom when into the palaces of the Caesars went Nero and Caligula, and when the once noble Praetorian Guard became a gang of assassins willing to sell the throne to the top bidder.

Alaric's Goths finally poured over the walls of Rome. But it was not that the walls were low. It was that Rome, itself, was low. The sensual life of Pompeii, the orgies on Lake Trasimene, the gradually weakened fibre of a once self-disciplined people that reduced them at last to seeking safety in mercenaries and the payment of tribute—all these brought Rome down. She went down too early. She had much to teach the world. And so, ladies and gentlemen, I look upon our country and much that I see disturbs me. But we are a great people. We have a noble tradition. We have much to teach the world, and if America should go down soon it would be too early.

One thing is certain. We shall be given no centuries for a leisurely and comfortable decay. We have an enemy now—remorseless, crude, brutal and cocky. However much the leaders of the Communist conspiracy may lie to their subjects about our motives, about our conditions of prosperity, about our policies and aims, one thing they believe themselves implicitly—and that is that we are in an advanced state of moral decline.

When Nikita Krushchev visited Hollywood he was shown only one movie set, that of a wild dance scene in Can-Can. He said it represented decadence and I am sure he really thought so. It is a dogma of current Communist faith that America is Sodom and Gomorrah, ripening for the kill.

Do you know what scares me about the Communists? It is not their political system which is primitive and savage. It is not their economic system which works so badly that progress in a few directions is purchased at the price of progress in all the rest. It is their puritanism. It is their dedication and self-sacrifice.

It does no good to comfort ourselves with the reflection that these are products of endless brainwashings, of incessant propaganda, of deprivation by censorship and jamming of counter-information and contrary arguments. The dedication is there. The confidence that they are morally superior is there.

The naive questions of your Intourist guide reveal only too quickly that she is talking to a self-indulgent fop from the court of some latter day Louis XIV. In the school yard the children rush up to show you, not their yo-yos, but their scholarship medals. And when you offer them new Lincoln pennies as souvenirs they rip off their little Young Pioneer buttons and hand them to you, proud that they are taking gifts, but are making a fair exchange.

The Russian stage is as austere as the Victorian stage. Russian literature may be corny but it is clean, and it glorifies the Russian people and exudes optimism and promise. Russian art is stiffly representational, but the paintings and the sculpture strive to depict beauty and heroism—Russian beauty of course and Russian heroism. And what of us?

Well, ladies and gentlemen, let's take them one at a time.

School Years Lead To Mediocrity

We are now at the end of the third decade of the national insanity known as "progressive education." This was the education where everybody passes, where the report cards were non-committal lest the failure be faced with the fact of his failure, where all moved at a snail pace like a transatlantic conveyer so that the slowest need not be left behind, and all proceeded toward adulthood in the lockstep of "togetherness." Thus the competition that breeds excellence was to be sacrificed for the benefit of something called "life adjustment."

With what results? We have watched juvenile delinquency climb steadily. We have produced tens of thousands of high school graduates who move their lips as they read and cannot write a coherent paragraph. While our Russian contemporaries, who were supposed to be dedicated to the mass man, have been busy constructing an elite, we have been engaged in the wholesale production of mediocrity. What a switch!

When was the last time you, as editors and publishers, examined the curricula of your local schools? How did your schools rank on the standardized Iowa tests? When have you looked at your school's report cards and the philosophy behind their grading system? Have you asked to examine any senior English theses? Have you offered any recognition to your schools' best scholars to compare to the recognition you accord your schools' best football players?

For the funny thing about "progressive education" is that theory vanishes when the referee's whistle blows for the kickoff. In the classroom they pretend to grade subjectively, against the student's supposed capacity, lest he be humiliated by natural inadequacy. But on the football field they never put in a one-legged halfback on the theory that, considering his disability, he's a great halfback. They put in the best halfback they've got, period.

The ungifted sit on the bench or back in the stands even though they, too, might thirst for glory. If our schools were as anxious to turn out brains as they are to turn out winning football teams this strange contradiction wouldn't exist.

Foreigners Given Poor U. S. Image

Two months ago an American touring company, sponsored by the State Department and paid for by your tax dollars, presented one of Tennessee Williams' more depraved offerings to an audience in Rio de Janeiro. The audience hooted in disgust and walked out. And where did it walk to? Right across the street where a Russian ballet company was putting on a beautiful performance for the glory of Russia! How dumb can we get?

We are drowning our youngsters in violence, cynicism and sadism piped into the living room and even the nursery. The grandchildren of the kids who used to weep because The Little Match Girl froze to death now feel cheated if she isn't slugged, raped and thrown into a Bessemer converter.

And there's our literature. The old eye-poppers of the past, which tourists used to smuggle back from Paris under their dirty shirts are now tame stuff. Compared to some of our modern slush, "Ulysses" reads like the minutes of the Epworth League. "Lady Chatterley's Lover" has been draped with the mantle of art, and is now on sale in the corner drugstore to your high school age son or daughter for 50 cents.

Henry Miller's "Tropic of Cancer," which resembles a collection of inscriptions taken from privy walls, is about to join Lady Chatterley. The quick-buck boys have apparently convinced our bum-fuzzed judges that there is no difference between a peep show and a moral lecture.

And, of course, we have our later-day historical novels in which the romance of man's upward movement from savagery is lost in a confused welter of bundlings and tumbings. The foreign reader of one of these epics on the development of the West must marvel that our forefathers found time to quell the Comanches, plow up Kansas and build the transcontinental railroad while spending practically all their time in the hay.

Don Maxwell of the Chicago Tribune has recently asked his book department to quit advertising scatological literature by including it in the list of best sellers. The critics and the book publishers have denounced him for tampering with the facts. I would like to raise a somewhat larger question: Who is tampering with the soul of America?

For nations do have souls. They have collective personalities. People who think well of themselves collectively exhibit elan and enthusiasm and morale. When nations cease believing in themselves when they regard their institutions with cynicism and their traditions with flippancy they will not long remain great nations. When they seek learning without effort and wages without work they are beginning to stagger.

Where they become hedonistic and pleasure-oriented, when their Boy Scouts on their 14-mile hikes start to hitchhike, there's trouble ahead. Where payola becomes a way of life, expense account cheating common, and union goonery a fiercely defended "right" that nation is in danger. And where police departments attempt to control burglary by the novel method of making it a department monopoly then the chasm yawns.

Ladies and gentlemen: do not let me overdraw the picture. This is still a great, powerful, vibrant, able, optimistic nation. Americans—our readers—do believe in themselves and in their country.

But there is rot and there is blight and there is cutting out and filling to be done if we, as the leader of free men, are to survive the hammer blows which quite plainly are in store for us all.

We have reached the stomach-turning point. We have reached the point where we should re-examine the debilitating philosophy of permissiveness. Let this not be confused with the philosophy of liberty. The school system that permits our children to develop a quarter of their natural talents is not a champion of our liberties. The healthy man who chooses to loaf on unemployment compensation is not a defender of human freedom. The playwright who would degrade us, the author who would profit from pandering to the worst that's in us, are no friends of ours.

It is time we hit the sawdust trail. It is time we revived the idea that there is such a thing as sin—just plain old willful sin. It is time we brought self-discipline back in to style. And who has a greater responsibility at this hour than we the gentlemen of the press?

So I suggest:

Let's look to our educational institutions at the local level, and if Johnny can't read by the time he's ready to get married let's find out why.

Let's look at the distribution of public largess and, if far from alleviating human misery, it is producing the sloth and irresponsibility that intensifies it, let's get it fixed.

Let's quit being bulldozed and, bedazzled by self-appointed longhairs. Let's have the guts to say that a book is dirt if that's what we think of it, or that a painting may well be a daub if you can't figure out which way to hang it. And if some beatnik welds together a collection of rusty cogwheels and old corset stays and claims it's a greater sculpture than Michelangelo's "David" let's have the courage to say that it looks like junk and probably is.

Let's blow the whistle on plays that would bring blushes to an American Legion stag party. Let's not be awed by movie characters with barnyard morals even if some of them have been photographed climbing aboard the Presidential yacht. Let us pay more attention in our news columns to the decent people everywhere who are trying to do something for the good of others.

Time Now for Some Planting of Flowers

In short, gentlemen, let's cover up the cesspool and start planting some flowers.

Well, that's the jeremiad. I never thought I'd deliver one of these. I never dreamed I'd go around, something like an advance man for the Watch and Ward Society. I used to consider myself quite a liberal young man. I still think that on some people Ikins look fine.

But I am fed up to here with the educationists and pseudo-social scientists who have underrated our potential as a people. I am fed up to here with the medicine men, who try to pass off pretense for art and prurience for literature. I am tired of seeing America debased and lowered in the eyes of foreigners. And I am genuinely disturbed that to idealistic youth in many countries the fraud of Communism appears synonymous with morality, while we, the chief repository of real freedom, are regarded as being the last stages of decay.

We can learn a lesson from history. Twice before our British cousins appeared heading into a collapse of principle, and twice they drew themselves back. The British court reached an advanced stage of corruption under the Stuarts. But the people rebelled. And in the wild days of George IV and William IV it looked as though Britain were rotting out again. But the people banded through the reform laws, and under Victoria went on to the peak of their power.

In this hour of fear, confusion and self-doubt, let this be the story of America. Unless I misread the signs a great number of our people are ready. Let there be a fresh breeze, a breeze of new honesty, new idealism, new integrity. And there, gentlemen, is where you come in. You have typewriters, presses and a huge audience. How about raising hell?

Having neglected disciplines in education it was quite logical that we should reject disciplines in art. The great painters and sculptors of the past studied anatomy so diligently that they often indulged in their own body snatching. And today, after many centuries, we stare at the ceiling of the Sistine Chapel or at the walls of the Reichsmuseum and marvel at their works.

But this self-discipline is of little concern to the modern non-objective painter. All he needs is pigment and press agent. He can throw colors at a canvas and the art world will discover him. He can stick bits of glass, old rags and quids of used tobacco on a board and he is a social critic. He can drive a car back and forth in pools of paint and Life magazine will write him up.

Talent is for squares. What you need is vast effrontery. If you undertake to paint a cow it must look something like a cow. That takes at least a sign-painter's ability. But you can claim to paint a picture of your psyche and no matter what the result who is to say what your psyche looks like? So our museums are filled with daubs being stared at by confused citizens who haven't the guts to admit they are confused.

But the Age of Fakery in art is a mild cross that American civilization bears. Much more serious is our collapse of moral standards and the blunting of our capacity for righteous indignation.

Our Puritan ancestors were preoccupied with sin. They were too preoccupied with it. They were hag-ridden and guilt-ridden and theirs was a repressed and neurotic society. But they had horsepower. They wrestled livings from rocky land, built our earliest colleges, started our literature, caused our industrial revolution, and found time in between to fight the Indians, the French and the British, to bawl for abolition, woman suffrage and prison reform, and to experiment with graham crackers and bloomers. They were a tremendous people.

And for all their exaggerated attention to sin, their philosophy rested on a great granite rock. Man was the master of his soul. You didn't have to be bad. You could and should be better. And if you wanted to escape the eternal fires you'd damned well better be.

In recent years all this has changed in America. We have decided that sin is largely imaginary. We have become enamored with "behavior psychology." This holds that a man is a product of his heredity and his environment, and his behavior to a large degree is forced or ordained by both. He is either a product of a happy combination of genes and chromosomes or an unhappy combination. He moves in an environment that will tend to make him good or that will tend to make him evil. He is just a chip tossed helplessly by forces beyond his control and, therefore, not responsible.

Well, the theory that misbehavior can be cured by pulling down tenements and erecting in their places elaborate public housing is not holding water. The crime rates continue to rise along with our outlays for social services. We speak of under-privilege. Yet the young men who stagger up and down the streets, boldly flaunting their gang symbols on their black jackets, are far more blessed in creature comforts, opportunities for advancement and freedom from drudgery than 90 per cent of the children of the world. We have sown the dragon's teeth of pseudo-scientific sentimentality, and out of the ground has sprung the legion bearing switch-blade knives and bicycle chains.

Clearly something is missing. Could it be what the rest of the world's children have been given—the doctrine of individual responsibility?

Relief is gradually becoming an honorable career in America. It is a pretty fair life, if you have neither conscience nor pride. The politicians will weep over you. The state will give a mother a bonus for her illegitimate children, and if she neglects them sufficiently she can save enough out of her ADC payments to keep herself and her boy friend in wine and gin. Nothing is your fault. And when the city fathers of a harrassed community like Newburgh suggests that able-bodied welfare clients might sweep the streets, our "liberal" editorialists arise as one man and denounce them. I don't know how long Americans can stand this erosion of principle. But I believe that some of my starry-eyed friends are kidding themselves when they pretend that every planeload of Puerto Ricans that puts down at Idlewild is equivalent in potential to every shipload of Pilgrims that put into old Plymouth. Nations are built by people capable of great energy and self-discipline. I never heard of one put together by cha-cha-cha.

The welfare state that taxes away the rewards for responsible behavior so that it can remove the age-old penalties for irresponsible behavior is building on a foundation of jelly. It is time we stopped this elaborate pretense that there is no difference between the genuinely unfortunate and the mobs of rattleheads who start throwing bottles every time the cops try to make a legitimate arrest.

Movies and Books Filthier Than Ever

Finally, there is the status of our entertainment and our literature.

Can anyone deny that movies are dirtier than ever? But they don't call it dirt. They call it "realism." Why do we nod owlishly when they tell us that filth is merely a daring art form, that licentiousness is really social comment? Isn't it time we recognized Hollywood's quest for the fast buck for what it is? Isn't it plain that the financially-harrassed movie industry is putting gobs of sex in the darkened drive-ins in an effort to lure curious teenagers away from their TV sets? Last week the screen industry solemnly announced that henceforth perversion and homo-sexuality, would no longer be barred from the screen provided the subjects were handled with "delicacy and taste." Good Lord!

And we of the press are a party to the crime. Last year the movie ads in our newspaper got so salacious and suggestive that the advertising manager and I decided to throw out the worst and set up some standards. We thought that due to our ukase there might be some inter-ruption in advertising some shows. But no. Within a couple of hours the exhibitors were down with much milder ads. How was this miracle accomplished?

Well, it seems that the exhibitors are supplied with several different ads for each movie. If the publishers are dumb enough to accept the most suggestive ones those are what they get. But if publishers squawk the cleaner ads are sent down. Isn't it time we all squawked?

I think it is time we quit giving Page 1 play to the extra-marital junkets of crooners. I think it is time we stopped treating as glamorous, exciting the brazen shack-ups of screen tramps. I think it is time we asked our Broadway and Hollywood columnists if they can't find something decent and inspiring going on along their beats.

And the stage: They raided Minsky's so Minsky's has spread all over town. Bawdiness has put on a dinner jacket, and seats in the orchestra that used to go for six bits at the old Howard and Nichols' Gayety are now scaled at $8.80. Oh, yes. And we have lots of "realism." Incestuous Americans. Perverse Americans. Degenerate Americans. Murderous Americans.

How many of these "realistic" Americans do you know?

Chain-O-Lakes Provide Fun And Recreation to Tourists

By Pearl Kapell

Probably everyone who has ever vacationed has had the experience of discovering, as he's ready to depart for home, a spot he wishes he had time to investigate. Just the cooling place he likes, or entertainment he missed because he didn't know it was available. So, this article will attempt to point out for the stranger in our midst, some of the facilities and recreation offered in the Chain-O-Lake-Marie-Lake-Catherine area.

For the vacationer looking only for a period of quiet country living and relaxation, probably one of the numerous private cottages for rent in the area are his best bet. These can be found advertised in both local and city papers, at real estate dealers in Antioch, or by simply cruising through the many subdivision areas that surround the lakes. It is usually necessary to make reservations in advance. Stanley's Resort, on the west shore of Channel Lake, has several cottages suitable for family living, complete with kitchens for the family who wants to do at least part of their own cooking. The cottages are on the lake shore, and there is an excellent beach. Boats and motors are available to rent. Stanley's also has a parking area and picnic tables for those who wish to spend only the day. There is a bar and soft drinks are available on the grounds.

On the east shore of Channel Lake, on Channel Lake Road just off Route 173, Sunnybanks Resort has lake shore cottages for rent, with a private beach, restaurant and soda fountain for the accommodation of tenants. Nearby Lakeview Hotel has both hotel rooms and cottages with a beach, restaurant and bar for the accommodation of guests. Cottages are also for rent at Smith's Resort, on the east shore of Channel Lake near Route 173.

The east shore of Channel Lake, indeed, is buzzing with activity during the summer months. Slide Inn has parking and picnic grounds with a beach, and serves food and drinks. Channel Lake Boat House, near the Lake Marie channel, has parking and a beach, with a restaurant and boats and motors available. This is headquarters for many fishing enthusiasts. There are also many night spots along Channel Lake Road.

Shady Nook, on Lake Marie, is reached by turning east off Route 173 at Cox's Corners. Pape's Villa has summer cottages for rent, on this road. Rudy's Resort, on the channel, has camping and picnic grounds and rents boats. Rudy Palenik, proprietor of the resort, is a knowledgeable fisherman, and the resort is headquarters for many anglers, summer and winter.

On Route 173 about one mile west of Antioch, on 4th Avenue of California Subdivision, Haisman's Bait Shop carries supplies for the fisherman. Also on 4th Avenue, on the north shore of Lake Marie, Haisman's Resort (operated by another branch of the Haisman family) has boats and motors for rent, a lunch counter, launching ramp for large boats, and balls, bait, tackle and gas for boats. Also on Route 173 west of Antioch, Paul Beach Resort has cottages near the shore of Lake Catherine for the vacationer. In the same area is Bob's Outboard Sales, with a launching ramp, picnic grounds and restaurant.

If you grow weary of outdoor sports, and like to bowl, the Antioch Bowl on Route 173 about one-fourth mile west of Antioch has twelve lanes for your enjoyment. The Antioch Bowl will be closed for one week during June for remodeling, but will be open throughout the week beginning the first of July.

Motels
If motels are more to your liking, Midlakes Motel on Route 173 is within walking distance of Channel Lake, Lake Catherine and Lake Marie. If you're economy-minded and willing to sacrifice a view of the lake from your room for cheaper rates, Chase's Cabins, operated in conjunction with Chase's Service station, on Route 173 about three and one-half miles west of Antioch, has probably the lowest rental rates in the area.

Camping
If camping out is your forte, and you have your own equipment, you have many places to choose from. Happy Acres Ranch, on Route 173 about four miles west of Antioch, is situated on the banks of the Fox River. The camping grounds cover many acres, with picnic tables, boats and motors available for rent, a concrete ramp for launching large boats, and docking and storage facilities for boats. Soft drinks and ice cream are sold on the grounds. For the youngsters, a menagerie of farm animals and pets are on view, sheep and lambs, deer, including a young fawn at present three weeks old, rabbits, ducks, ponies and horses. Pony and wagon rides are available on Sunday, and at other times by special arrangement. Courtesy hay rides through the grounds are scheduled at intervals throughout the summer. Fishing in the Fox River is excellent right now, report the Krups, owners of Happy Acres Ranch, with striped bass, catfish and bullheads plentiful. Parking facilities are also available for those who do not wish to camp out.

Across the road from Happy Acres Ranch is Oak Point State Park, also on the banks of the Fox River. Previously a free camping area, this year there is a fee of 50¢ a night for camping. The park has a spot suitable for boat launching and spacious picnic grounds.

If you intend to do your own cooking while you're vacationing, there are many small grocery stores conveniently scattered throughout the Channel Lake-Lake Catherine-Lake Marie area. For more extensive shopping, Antioch can supply all needs.

Eateries
If you prefer to eat out, you will have no trouble finding a place that will suit your fancy of the moment. If a drive-in is your desire, both the Dog-n-Suds and A & W Root Beer stand serve a variety of food and drink. For the family restaurant, Aunt Min's on Route 173 & Cox's Corners, and Tony's Pizzeria, next door to the Dog-n-Suds, are available. If you're looking for a "better" place to eat, with finer food and more elaborate service, Lorenz's Smart Country House, on Route 173, just west of Antioch, Paty's Lounge, on Route 173, about three miles west of Antioch, Wally's Channel Inn, on Marie Channel, and the Four Aces, a bit farther west, also serve complete meals. Four Aces specializes in Chinese food and also supplies carry-out meals. In addition, most of the taverns in the area serve either meals or sandwiches.

In addition to the places already mentioned for launching large boats, Sequoit Harbor, on Route 173 about one mile west of Antioch, specializes in this service and has a lunchroom.

Fishing
For the angler, fish are plentiful in the three lakes, with large catches of crappies, bluegills, bullheads, catfish, bass and a few Northerns and Walleyes. In early summer, many bass can be found in the numerous channels that connect the lakes. As the spawning season ends and warmer weather moves in, the bass will move out into the lakes. The north and south ends of Channel Lake near the channels are favorite spots of many anglers who know the lake.

If you grow tired of swimming, boating, fishing and relaxing, there is dancing on Saturday night at Wally's Channel Inn and the Four Aces. And there are numerous local activities scheduled throughout the summer at which the summer visitor is welcomed. The numerous subdivisions in the area, for example, hold "picnics," or small carnivals, at which the vacationer can find an afternoon or evening of amusement. Woodcrest Subdivision, on Lake Avenue at Channel Lake, has a picnic on July 7 and 8. Felter's Subdivision, on Lake Catherine off Route 173, has its picnic scheduled for July 14. Other activities, as they are scheduled, can be found advertised on posters in stores, in the pages of the Antioch News, both in ads and news items, and by inquiry at the information booth of the Jaycees, at the corner of Lake and Main in Antioch.

Mr. Robert Bettenhausen poses atop the color TV set, along with an air conditioner, sewing machine, electric blanket, bottle warmer, phonograph, hair clippers, projector, radio, 2 heat pads, vacuum, and tree lights.

Little Bill reports: 46¢ worth of electricity a day runs all these appliances for the Bettenhausens

Most folks are mighty surprised at the number of electric helpers they own. The Bettenhausens were. They now have many more electrical appliances than they started with and are actually using about three times as much electricity. But the Bettenhausens, like all of us, are paying less for it per kilowatt hour than they did years ago. One reason for this is the Power Grid System which connects our power lines with companies in thirty-two other states.

With this system we can often buy (or sell) power at advantageous rates which helps keep the price you pay down.

That's another reason why it costs so little to live better electrically today!

The R. Bettenhausens live in Tinley Park, Ill. Average cost of their electricity was computed by adding their electric bills for last year, Sept. 7, 1960, to Sept. 7, 1961, and dividing by 365 days. Naturally, costs vary according to a family's living habits.

Proposed Zoning Ordinance Map

Plan Protested

The hotly-debated zoning map included in the proposed zoning ordinance prepared by the Evert Kincaid company of Chicago, professional planners, has drawn considerable protest from the village's residents concerned with the allocations of the indicated business, industrial and residential areas.

Several persons from the 125 assembled at the last meeting of the Planning and Zoning Board in the Fire Station, took exception to the map, especially to the areas zoned for business.

Lester Osmond, Sr. objected to the proposed residential areas about the cluster of existing stores and businesses located at Rtes. 59 and 173.

Mrs. Helen Osmond, who owns property next to the cemetery, stated that her property is not fit for residences. Both Mr. and Mrs. Osmond requested business zoning for their property.

Gordon Volling, who has operated a business on Lot 83 of the County Clerk's Subdivision for the past eight years, also requested zoning for business.

Also requesting business zoning were James Palm, Lewis Place, Dorothy Sammel, John Blackman, Bob Bemis, Ardis Anzinger, Dr. George W. Jensen, Jim McMillen, Lester Osmond, Jr., Bernard Osmond, Charles J. Cermak, Ruth Seyfarth, James Herman, Robert Griffin and Charles Ferris.

Those requesting residential zoning were Don Gibbs, Marilyn Sterbenz and Harold Nelson. Mrs. Irving Foster objected to business being located on Orchard Street.

Long-time property holder in Antioch, George Borovick, requested that his lots, bought years ago for residence, remain zoned for business and industry under the new zoning ordinance.

Several persons at the meeting stated that there were too few maps and copies of the ordinance available for public inspection. Several persons also felt that there was not enough time to study the proposed plan and requested that a further meeting be held.

Dave Nissen, head of the Planning and Zoning Board, stated that another meeting is tentatively planned for July 17 at the grade school auditorium if that building can be made available.

Strong opposition was registered by Dr. George W. Jensen who maintained that the map shown in the proposed ordinance was at least 25 to 30 years old and outdated. At the time of the meeting he requested that the public hearing be postponed until a later date.

Jim McMillen, the record states, objected to the entire plan.

Many persons felt that not enough publicity had been given to the meeting. The board explained that all legal requirements had been met. A legal notice of the proposed ordinance was published in the Antioch News on May 10 which set the date for the June 7 meetings. A front page lead story in the Antioch News, carrying a full eight column banner headline, announcing the meeting, was published on May 31, one week before the meeting.

Mrs. Elizabeth Randall objected to the size of the area (shown in solid black on above map) allocated to business and industry which runs from Main Street east to the Soo Line tracks. That property is presently slough land. Mrs. Randall also went on to object to the proposed dwelling-area, feeling that it was out of proportion to the business and industry area. She felt that the plan was cutting off the growth of business and industry in the area by zoning the best business property as residential.

When several questions were raised regarding the established businesses which would be located in residential zones, Chairman Dave Nissen explained that these businesses would be allowed to continue their operation but would not be allowed to expand or rebuild under the new ordinance.

Ruth Seyfarth suggested that businesses already established be zoned as business property rather than non-conforming to save the expense of the property owners requesting re-zoning at a later time.

Statements were made by the group which indicated a natural trend of business expansion would be down Lake Street and Orchard Street. It was stated that Orchard Street has at least three or four businesses already and that the entire center of town should be businesses in the future.

Trustee Ernest Glenn, a member of the Zoning Board, recently stated that he was not in favor of zoning but if the majority wanted zoning, the Village Board would do what the majority wanted.

Trustee Dave Nissen, present chairman of the Planning and Zoning Board, stated he felt zoning was good for the community and is in favor of it.

The rest of the board made up of Robert Wilton, Sr., Art Larson, Elmer Renner and George Palaska.

Nissen, explaining the board's position, stated that the only authority the Zoning and Planning Board has is to make recommendations for alterations in the proposed ordinance and did not have the authority to change anything in the present proposal. The Village Board, after considering all of the Zoning Board's recommendations, has complete authority to change the ordinance. Nissen pointed out.

Fireside Ranch - A New Experience of Touring

By Jay Nash

The Fireside Ranch, owned and operated by Mack and Vera Fire on East Depot Street, is getting a reputation in this area for breeding fine quarter horses. The horse farm has been in operation in Illinois for over a year, the Fires having previously owned a similar farm in Wisconsin for a number of years.

Rolling for 78 grass-laden acres, their present farm has its own valleys, private pond and open access to Little Silver Lake.

Pride of the Fireside Ranch is the champion stud—Jimbo Reed, a black quarter horse worth $35,000. Jimbo Reed, at one year old, won the Governor's Trophy and the Land of Lincoln Trophy.

Prize-winning mare, Fleet Pixie, another Fire horse, has an estimated worth of $10,000.

Although the ranch is run strictly for individuals wanting private boarding space for their personal horses, and horse breeding, the Fires encourage inspection of their spread by the public.

Quarter-horse racing and breeding ranches are currently something new in the State of Illinois but are catching on. Mack Fire, who is an executive for Freeze-King, has a proud history behind him in raising and training horses.

He learned his trade basically while working for the King Ranch in Texas, the biggest ranch in the United States. Riding for years in rodeo contests, Mack Fire established a reputation for being among the best bronco riders in the world. He also worked as a private guide for tourists going over the Colorado Mountains. With this vast wealth of knowledge, Fire also taught horse riding at a special girls' finishing college for a number of years.

The Fires plan to build an indoor arena in addition to their present open track now available to racing horses. Short-horn cattle are expected to be brought to the ranch for the purpose of roping and training the quarter horses.

Classes in riding and training for those boarding horses at the ranch are held on Sunday by Mack Fire. The instruction area is in one of the ranch's valleys which is covered with an 8-foot-deep black loam blanketed by high grass.

Now in the area and now establishing a fine reputation for breeding and raising horses, the Fireside Ranch is sure to enhance the Antioch area for years to come. A visit to this splendid horse farm sometime this summer should prove rewarding to both Antioch residents and outsiders alike.

Get home safely from your summer vacation. Don't exert yourself in ways you wouldn't during the 50 other weeks of the year, says the Heart Association.

JACY'S RESORT, located on Little Silver Lake, has operated successfully since the middle 1920's, offering guests and visitors picnic areas, a children's beach and cottages. Excellent fishing can also be found on the lake since motors are not permitted to operate.

A Reason To Visit Antioch: Jacy's Silver Lake Resort

By Jay Nash
Since 1922, when the family rolled out to the lake in those casket-like Fords that were cranked from the front and prayed over behind the wheel, Jacy's Resort on placid Little Silver Lake has been going strong.

In the old days of prohibition and Biederbecke Jazz, the resort was known as "Duke's"—a fitting title for that era of smart hideaways and lakeside retreats.

Jacy's Resort still retains the same quiet atmosphere as it did in the '20's (or perhaps it wasn't so quiet then). Sloping down to the sand-banked beach, the picnic area is shaded with trees and is soft underfoot with heavy turf.

The resort offers cottages and sleeping rooms. One-day visitors are allowed to put up their own grills in preparing their picnic luncheons. Tables are available, along with sandwiches and beverages from the roadside pub.

Present proprietor of the resort, Wayne Erickson, stated that "there are no motors allowed on Little Silver Lake. This makes for fine fishing." Erickson went on to add that the "bass are hitting very good." He pointed out that since no motors were used on the lake, carp were unmuddled when taken from the clear, spring-fed lake.

The resort's beach, covered with soft sand, is excellent for younger children wanting to swim. No fear of mishap here—the water is shallow and clear for 110 feet from shore, that area being enclosed by a bank of weeds—a natural fence for children. All in all, Jacy's Resort is another one of those Lake Region vacationist centers, pointing out the best aspects of visiting Antioch.

ELMS ENDANGERED BY ELM BEETLE

This is the time of year when the European elm bark beetle starts to emerge from dead or weak elm trees, according to Leo Smith, Kono-sha County Horticultural Agent. This insect has overwintered in elmwood as a larva, but changed to a beetle in May—then eats his way out of the bark around June 1.

The elm bark beetle carries the Dutch elm disease fungus to healthy elm trees. The elm bark beetle feeds in the smaller twig crotches which is generally the previous year's growth.

Smith said the fungus is left in the feeding scars and it grows very rapidly, plugging up the water transporting cells. The tree then dies due to lack of water and nutrients.

Any dead elms standing at the present time should be cut and burned as they are a potential source of new infection.

Smith said the immediate destruction of dead or weak elms would greatly reduce the number of elm bark beetles that would emerge and infect healthy elm trees.

Midwest Speedway Lead Copped by Milwaukeean

Waukegan, June 24—Well on his way towards regaining the track championship lost in 1960 to Greg Krieger and again in 1961 to Bill Strom, Little Eddie Stillman of Milwaukee captured his second feature win of the season to move into a tie with the defending champion Strom, as the powerful modified stocks staged their seventh program of the season at the Waukegan speedway.

Stillman started at the rear of the 18 car field and gradually moved up through the field to take the lead on the 21st lap from Gordon Gorman of Libertyville who turned in the best performance of the year.

Strom, who held the second row inside position at the start of the event, was not able to gain a lead position at any point in the race. Pole position driver Roger Otto of Burlington grabbed the lead at the start and was seemingly well on his way towards gaining his first feature victory when he spun out all by himself on the 12th circuit.

Gorman moved into the lead position while Stillman was still back in seventh spot. Stillman moved into third on the 10th trip around and chopped off both second and first spots on the 21st to win the event by a three car length margin. His average speed was 49.92 mph. All 18 starters finished the race with only four of them ending up a lap behind at the finish.

Other Action

The first heat event of the night got off to a rough start as a four car pileup in the first corner blocked the track and called for a restart. Another spinout by Jim Nottingham, Waukegan, caused another stop, when his car sat in the middle of the track facing oncoming traffic. Three more were eliminated by spins and collisions later in the event. Three cars finished, all in close position, as Ollie Wergin of Milwaukee took the close decision.

Numerous other spins and accidents took place in other events throughout the night, but none was of a serious nature. In the modified division events, Fran Seamars, Milwaukee, took wins in both the second heat and the 15 lap semi feature, while Otto won the third and Jim Ouellette of Hales Corners took a close decision over Paul Feldner, Colgate, in the fourth. Seamars averaged 49.51 mph in winning the semi in another close battle that saw Paul Coen, West Allis, pushing him for most of the distance.

Speedway Spectacular

Only one roll over took place during the evening and that occurred during the running of the sportsmen time trials. Gene Southern of

Antioch Team Leads Babe Ruth League

The Antioch Babe Ruth League team defeated Mundelein recently by a score of 4-0, taking over first place in the Chain O' Lakes league. With the pitching of Bob Lenczewski holding the Mundelein nine to four hits, Wally Henning's homer, Brandin Schaefer's two singles, and Ray Westhof's double supplied the winning runs for Antioch.

The manager and the players wish to thank all who came out to watch the game, but wish more spectators would attend.

B-Z-B Bums Beat Hank's Wayside Inn

In a baseball game at Channel Lake Sunday afternoon, between patrons of Hank's Wayside Inn and the B-Z-B Tap, the score was 17-14 in favor of the B-Z-B Bums. The game was played on the Zeien Home Diamond.

Hank's Allstars will have another chance to win a game when they take on the Four Aces team, on Sunday, July 15.

Waukegan escaped uninjured when he blew a tire, barrel rolled three times and bounced and over and one additional time in an accident that thoroughly demolished the machine. Virtually nothing but the sturdy and unbent roll over bars was salvageable.

Newcomer to Waukegan, Roger Regeth, the Midwest Speedway's sportsman champion last year set the fast qualifying time in that division, but was only able to nail down a third place in the 12 lap feature.

Dennis Burgan, point leader at Waukegan this season, took top honors in both the 8 lap heat and the feature. He staged a thrilling wheel to wheel battle with Sonny Miller of Waukegan in the main event with the lead changing hands on several laps, but a last turn mixup with another car gave the decision to Burgan as Miller tried to dodge a spinning car.

Sunday, July 1, the Waukegan Speedway will present its eighth program of the season as the powerful modifieds and the spectacular sportsmen engage in another round of action. Eddie Stillman of Milwaukee, the current point leader at the track and former champion, will be seeking his third feature win of the season and is expected to get stiff competition from defending champion Bill Strom of West Allis who also has two feature victories for 1962 under his belt. Time trials will start at 7:15 with racing getting underway at 8:30 p.m. The speedway is located on West Washington Street, just west of Waukegan.

Winning Streak Held By Yankees at 10-1

The Yankees beat the second place White Sox in the Lakeland Little League at Silver Lake by a score of 6-1. Mike Vanderzee pitched a 3 hitter for the Yankees, striking out 14. John Schmalfeldt hit a grand slam home run for the Yankees in the 5th inning to preserve the win and Ronnie Weidner also homered with a man on for the Yankees in the 3rd inning. Mike Thom, pitching for the White Sox, had 13 strikeouts and allowed only 4 hits. Steve Miller hit a double for the Sox.

The Pirates won over the Orioles in a game played at the Fox River Park by a score of 15-4. Tommy Hartnell pitched a 4 hitter for the Pirates and his teammates did some timely hitting, with Mike Wagner, Danny Chibos, Jimmy Noonan, and Jack Coremuga each getting 2 hits. Wagner hit a home run for the Pirates and Dennis McCarthy belted a home run for the Orioles.

The Cubs beat the Braves at New Munster by a score of 13-5. Murphy Huston pitched the win for the Cubs and Tommy Day getting 3 hits and David Schlitz getting a homer and single led the Cubs attack. Tim Sexton hit a single and home run for the Braves.

Kennedy Proclaims Safe Boating Week

In a National Proclamation, President Kennedy has designated July 1-7 as Safe Boating Week. A stepped up program of Courtesy Motorboat Examinations by Coast Guard Auxiliary examiners, teams and Safety Patrols performed by Auxiliary members for the Chicago-Waukegan and Holland, Mich., sailboat races will highlight the activities of Northwest Suburban U.S.C.G.A. Flotilla 22-18 during Safe Boating week.

Edwin H. Weig of Lincolnwood and Rt. 1, Antioch, is Chairman of the Coast Guard Auxiliary Flotilla's Safe Boating Week Committee. He said that each boat passing the safety examination will be awarded a decal showing that it meets Coast Guard standards and the additional Auxiliary requirements for greater safety. Boats displaying the Auxiliary decal are not stopped by Coast Guard boarding parties unless there is an obvious violation of requirements or approved operating procedures. Courtesy examinations for award of the Safety decal will be held Sunday, July 1 and Saturday, July 7 at harbors and marinas throughout Chicagoland and the Chain O' Lakes area with various Auxiliary flotillas participating. Local harbor masters or marina personnel may be contacted on those dates for location of inspection sites.

Weig said, "The purpose of Safe Boating Week is to point out to pleasure boaters the basic rules and regulations for safety afloat and the need for maintaining a safe and properly equipped boat. Despite the fact that some of the recent boating accidents would not have occurred had recommended safety practices been followed, boating is still one of the nation's safest family sports," he added. "We want to do all we can to keep it that way."

Nicklaus and Palmer Meet

GOLF, Ill.—Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer will resume their friendly but dramatic golfing feud next week in the 59th Western Open championship at Medinah Country Club.

Nicklaus, the newly crowned National Open champion, joins Palmer, the defending Western Open champion, as co-favorites when the firing starts Thursday (June 28) on the rugged No. 3 course at Medinah Country Club.

They head an impressive list of entrants announced by the Western Golf Association, sponsor of the Western Open. In the field will be all 30 of the top 30 money winners on the pro circuit this year. They also include the first 12 finishers in the recent National Open.

Having just decided Palmer in their playoff for the National Open title, Nicklaus has his sights on wrestling the Western Open crown away from Palmer, who topped the 1961 parade at Blythe Field Country Club in Grand Rapids.

This will mark Nicklaus' competitive debut as the new national champion. The 22-year-old power hitter from Columbus has dropped off the circuit for a one-week rest before returning to action in the Western Open. Nicklaus will be making his second appearance in a Western Open. He competed in the 1959 championship at the Pittsburgh Field Club, and was the low amateur.

If Nicklaus could add the Western Open to his collection, he would become the first player in 52 years to hold both the Western Open and the Western Amateur crowns at the same time. Chick Evans last did it in 1910. Nicklaus won the 1961 Western Amateur in New Orleans and the 1962 Amateur will not be played until next month.

Palmer will be competing in his sixth Western Open. In 1955, his first season as a pro, he tied for 16th in 1957

Medinah Course Lists History of Champions

GOLF, Ill.—The greatness and versatility of Medinah C.C. site of the 1962 Western Open golf championship June 28-July 1, is pointed up by its fine golf courses.

In the golfing world it is not likely any other one club has a layout which includes a course offering the challenge of Medinah No. 3, over which the Western Open will be contested; the pleasure and beauty of the No. 1 course, and the practicality of the Ladies' No. 2.

Scene of a former National Open, among other tournaments, Medinah No. 3's course rating of 76 is the highest in the Chicago area. Some changes have been made in No. 3 since the 1949 U.S.G.A. Open. Eleven greens have been completely rebuilt, yet their enlarged and contoured surfaces remain a fair test of golf.

Past history recorded on Medinah's No. 3 includes these highlights:

1920—Medinah Open, the first attempt to make Medinah a stage for championship competition. This was a stop-over tournament for pros who had played in the St. Louis Open, and were enroute to St. Paul. Harry Cooper won the event with a card which included a 63. This drove proud Medinah members into a huddle from which came the announcement that the course would be re-designed, thus averting additional 63's. Five new holes were hacked out of woods which originally had been tagged as residential.

he failed to survive the 36-hole cut, and in 1959 he tied for seventh.

The last two trips saw Palmer a leading contender from the start. He lost the 1959 event by a single stroke to Souchak, missing a 33-inch putt on the final green which would have forced a playoff. In 1961 Palmer led or shared the lead in every round, eventually nipping Sam Snead by two strokes at the finish.

The 12 leading finishers in the National Open, all of who will play in the Western Open, were: Nicklaus, Palmer, Phil Rodgers, Bobby Nichols, Gay Brewer, Gary Player, Tommy Jacobs, Gene Littler, Billy Maxwell, Doug Ford, Art Wall and Doug Sanders.

Among the other top touring pros on the 1962 money list entered at Medinah are Billy Casper, Dow Finsterwald, Bob Rosburg, Bruce Crampton, Bob Goalby, Mike Souchak, Dave Regan, Jay Hebert, Lionel Hebert, Johnny Pott, Joe Campbell, Don January and George Bayer.

In fact, the field will contain the winners of all 24 tournaments held on the PGA circuit this year with but one exception—Bo Winginger, who captured the New Orleans Open in one of his few tournament appearances.

GOLF, Ill.—Not since Sam Snead doubled up in 1949-1950 has anyone successfully defended his Western Open golf title. Arnold Palmer will try to swing the trick this year. He won at Grand Rapids last year with Snead the runnerup. The 1962 Western Open will be held at Medinah Country Club's No. 3 course June 28-July 1.

Don't try to do as much work in hot, humid weather as you do in cool weather, cautions the Heart Center of Lake County.

July 4 Holiday Affects Food Prices

CHICAGO—Independence Day shows its influence on food markets this week. Consumers can help beat the budget by exercising initiative and freedom of choice in store-by-store selectivity.

The University of Illinois consumer service weekly survey notes that general retail price levels on red meats, poultry and eggs, and many produce lines are holding unusually firm, even on traditional holiday movers, irrespective of supply level condition.

Most menu budget saving will come from shopping around for "dealer choice" bargains. For the week ending June 30, these possibilities can include:

Meats—Beef steaks and ground beef, hams, pork steaks, chops and ribs. Poultry—turkey, foyers and large eggs. Produce—corn, green beans, cucumbers, carrots, beets, green onions, peppers, local lettuce, blueberries, strawberries, seedless grapes.

peaches, oranges, lemons and watermelon. The July calendar of produce values (indicates peak supply month) shows a broad range of possibilities:

Fruits—apricots, blackberries, blueberries, cherries, currants, gooseberries, lemons, limes, nectarines, peaches, plums, raspberries, strawberries.

Melons—Cantaloupe, Crenshaw, Persians, Watermelons.

Vegetables—beans, beets, corn, cucumbers, kohlrabi, lettuce, okra, green onions, peppers, radishes, Swiss chard and tomatoes.

Tomatoes are a first-of-the-month problem, though, a valuable supplies rated high priced for generally poor quality.

Fresh pork recorded the most common retail price gain for the week.

Fryers continue to show competitive tags ranging 27-35c, turkeys 35-45c and large Grade A white eggs 39-47c.

Hayes Robertson Booms GOP Drive

Hayes Robertson, right, new Cook County Republican Chairman, pledges all-out support of GOP for the Blue Ballot Judicial Amendment in the November election.

Harold A. Smith, prominent attorney and leader in the fight for court reform (residence—Evanston), Newton Rooks, president of the Chicago Bar Association (residence—Wilmette), and James Rutherford, chairman of the Committee for Modern Courts, welcome Robertson as honorary co-chairman of the citizens committee.

Other honorary co-chairmen in the non-partisan campaign are Governor Otto Kerner, Mayor Richard J. Daley, and Secretary of State Charles Carpenter.

"There is not—and there should not be—any political label on judicial reform," Robertson states. "I am proud to say that the record of the Republican party is clear on this issue. We have consistently supported efforts to improve the court system—to remove it from politics—and to speed up the judicial process."

"Adoption of the judicial amendment next November will enable the Supreme Court to assign Circuit Judges in districts where court calendars are congested, will expedite the appeal process."

State of Illinois Under Heavy Suit

SPRINGFIELD—A taxpayer's suit to restrain the State of Illinois from making welfare payments to strikers was filed Wednesday (June 20) in Sangamon County Circuit Court, Springfield.

Complainants in the suit are Paul Phillips, Sterling, Ill., and the Strat-O-Seal Manufacturing Company, Chicago. The suit is supported by the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce. Defendants are certain state officials, including members of the Illinois Public Aid Commission.

The court test arises from a recent ruling by Illinois Attorney General William G. Clark which held that strikers and their families who qualify under the Public Aid Commission's definition of need are entitled to grants under the aid to dependent children program.

The issue concerning welfare payments to strikers came to light several months ago when the State Chamber learned that welfare payments had been or would be made to certain employees on strike against an employer in Southern Illinois.

Investigation by the State Chamber, including conferences with the chairman of the Public Aid Commission, revealed that the Commission had for several years pursued a policy of making general assistance payments to strikers. It was agreed, however, that the Commission would withhold ADC payments pending a specific ruling from the attorney general.

That ruling, holding ADC payments legal, was issued on January 19 and is the authority under which the Commission has felt obligated to make payments to strikers.

Research studies show that heart patients can work at many kinds of jobs on an equal footing with workers who have no heart disease," the Heart Association says.

Along Vacation Way

with
Weary Annie Mae

Starry-eyed and vaguely good intended, ol' Annie Mae started out on her first official commission for this newspaper. That ever lovin' Editor said to me, "Tell the readers in your own inimitable way all about our Vacation Land."

So, being of sound mind and weak body (Let me see, was that worded right?) the first thought was, where to begin? Remembering a lesson given by an old Journalism Prof., "Always get the facts!" (he later wrote for Dragnet); this Gal set out to cram a two week "Vacation" into twenty-four hours.

First step would be the Jaycee Information center, and there I found descriptive folders of every available recreation. Now home to plan this fun packed day.

Early morning hours seemed best for fishing, so in the darkness before dawn I hid myself off to rent a boat. It soon became evident one had a wide range from which to choose, anything from a "Do it yourself" rowboat to a cabin cruiser or pontoon, (also available for moonlight parties). Not being exceptionally nautical my choice was a small two seater, one for me and one for my borrowed equipment. Fishing spots and advice on lures, etc. were readily available from a nearby bait shop. (Did you know that Golden roaches were tiny fish and not roaches at all?)

Half an hour later, just as Old Sol was beginning to wink over the horizon, Annie Mae was unflinchingly trying her luck with a "Special" no back lash rod and reel. Exactly 15 minutes and 15 snags in the tree behind, the weeds in the water, and the side of the boat, found her sans rod and reel.

While the fish delightedly leaped all around the boat, no one will believe me, but I know they were laughing.

Well, you can't expect me to like all the outdoor activities, so mid-morning found this gal donning boots, jodhpurs and a Western saddle at one of the local horse ranches. Being of a gentle nature, my request to the stable boy was for a similar horse. Somehow another part of my personality must have caught his (and the horse's) keen sense. You see I have an ever so slight stubborn streak. It's not hard to figure from here what happens when a stubborn gal meets an equally balky horse. Of course something had to give and horses I find are not an elastic type. Which automatically led me to a further discovery. Drive-ins will also serve walk-in patrons, and it's possible to eat standing up!

After a vertical lunch, slightly less discouraged I checked the list of activities still to be experienced this day. Physical activity aids digestion they say, and so it seemed that tennis followed by a swim would be next on the agenda. Didn't do too bad at tennis, but found it a very strenuous game when played alone.

Now came the thing I knew best how to do, and frankly had looked forward to most of all. Happily dashing off to jump into last year's bathing suit, imagine my amazement when a one piece woolen knit (thanks to Matilda Moth and her friends) had become nearly a two piece Bikini! Afraid of being arrested for indecent exposure, the obvious thing to be done was to pedal (on my rented cycle) to the nearest clothiers. Not the Bikini type, my selection was the new Muu Muu design! Picture if you can a quaking Annie Mae, clad in a Muu Muu atop a 16 foot high dive at the swimming pool. Dive? Impossible. Jump? Never!! Pushed was the word! Fortunately for me (and the Editor) I'm not a bad swimmer.

Having had enough of high places, but still a need for a refreshing dip, it was time now to take advantage of a chance to water ski on one of the lakes. Little did I know that DIP was a far cry from the DUNKING I was about to receive. There really isn't anything difficult about water skiing, if you're 15 and have ten years of acrobatic dancing experience!

The daylight hours were fast waning now and twilight golf appeared on the top of the short list of activities left. The course was beautiful at this time of day, and I could feel a creeping sort of calm as I walked down the No. 1 fairway in search of the first of what was to be a vast quantity of lost golf balls. Deducting the strokes normally taken for a lost ball, and considering it took a flashlight to putt out the last hole, my score was rather admirable.

Menus of every sort were available in the many fine restaurants around. A medium rare steak, preceded by a beverage-soaked olive, seemed most appealing after packing more activities in one day than I usually attempt all summer.

And so it was that a weary, well fed, and lotion covered Annie Mae sat down to put onto paper, via the typewriter, how lucky we are to live in the heart of Vacation Land.

Pulmonary tuberculosis is a respiratory disease.

Elm Disease Season Begins with Summer

"The season for Dutch elm disease has started," says Lee Smith, Kenosha County Horticultural agent. He said that the State Department of Agriculture laboratory has already confirmed two cases of Dutch elm disease in Kenosha County. Warren Taylor, city planner, says five elms in the city have been confirmed. These were trees that acquired the disease late last year and symptoms are showing up now.

Smith said that trees with new infections this year will start producing symptoms in the next week or two and summer. Most people begin to notice disease symptoms during the months of July and early August.

The early stage of the disease is indicated by the wilting, curling and yellowing of the leaves on one or more branches, according to Smith.

This is followed by leaves dropping and branches dying. Most elms die in a few weeks after becoming infected. In some cases, it takes a year or two to completely kill the tree.

It is very important that all diseased elms be burned so that the disease-carrying elm bark beetle doesn't have a place to reproduce.

Smith said that the City of Kenosha has been able to keep the disease down to less than a two per cent loss per year. The county area lost around six per cent last year.

THE ANTIOCH NEWS

and could be ripe for a lot of infection in the next year or two if the various communities should let up on the clear-up of diseased trees.

The areas with the highest infection last year were Twin Lakes, Somers, and the area around Silver Lake in Salem.

Anyone who has an elm they want checked for Dutch elm disease should notify their local town or village officials. In the city of Kenosha, the city planning department takes the calls and Joseph Goff will be doing the sampling.

City Sales Taxes Go Over 5 Million Mark

Springfield, Ill., June 20—City sales taxes collected in April on March tax liability grossed $5,305,709 and the county sales taxes for the same period grossed $314,514, the Illinois Department of Revenue reported today.

The collections from 160 cities and villages and 65 counties represent a tax of one-half percent on retail sales in municipalities and parts of counties not in municipalities. Included in the gross collections for municipalities is Municipal Service Tax in the amount of $78,213 from 604 communities.

Gross collections from cities and villages were reduced by $210,000, the state's four per cent administration charge. Payments made under protest and withheld amounted to $48,730 and $7,089 was held in escrow. The new amount certified for cities and villages was $5,030,999.

Gross collections from counties were reduced by $12,070, the state's four per cent administration charge. The amount of $660 was protested and withheld. The net amount certified to counties was $301,689.

A total of 1,152 municipalities adopting the Municipal Retailers' Occupation Tax and 704 have adopted the Municipal Service Occupation Tax.

The Department of Revenue reported 66 counties have adopted the County Retailers' Occupation Tax and 51 counties collect the County Service Occupation Tax.

Keep Cool...Cook Out With Jewel Beef!

Discover this cool and convenient new way to prepare a real "man's meal" with Jewel's U.S. Choice Blade Cut Pot Roast!

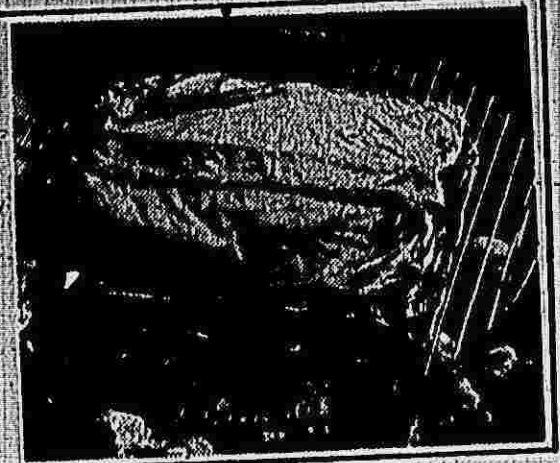

- Keep your kitchen cool—use your outdoor grill
- Keep your pots and pans clean—prepare the whole meal in aluminum foil!

MEAT BUYING TIP:

When buying meat, remember to select a cut that has sufficient fat on it to insure moistness and tenderness. Also look for bright red color and fine texture. You find these characteristics in U.S. Choice Beef—which is all Jewel sells!

HERE'S HOW YOU DO IT:

1. Place Jewel Pot roast on large piece of heavy duty aluminum foil
2. Place uncooked potatoes and onions on top of the roast
3. Season and wrap meat and vegetables in the foil tightly
4. Raise grill as high as possible above the coals
5. Cook over very hot coals approximately 2 hours or 'til tender

Summer Story Hour to Highlight Vacations

The special summer reading program of the Lake Villa Township Library is now under way with a story hour from 10 to 11 a.m.

Children aged 5 through 8 are invited to attend the Story Circle each Thursday morning through August 9. Mrs. Florus Albert will read stories, direct children's discussions and songs, and plan other entertainment for the younger library patrons.

Children who have participated in this summer program in recent years have enjoyed Mrs. Albert's talented style of reading to children.

Sponsors of this special Story Hour for which the library will be opened in the morning are the Lake Villa Women's Club and the local Parent Teachers Association.

Library attractions have also been planned for other ages. Art prints, recorded music, air-conditioned comfort, and a constant supply of new and interesting books and pamphlets will add sparkle to the long, lazy summer.

Constantly on the alert to improve library service, the Librarian, Mrs. Virginia Balke and her assistants, Mrs. A. G. Konitzer and Mrs. Bob Rolin, will attend the Northern Illinois Librarians' In-Service Training Workshop at Northern University, DeKalb, June 26-27.

Dr. LaVern A. Walther, Acting Head, Library School, was the moderator of this meeting.

Gov. Kerner Pledges Support To Lake County Safety Heads

Remarks of Gov. Otto Kerner, prepared for delivery at Lake County Safety Committee quarterly meeting, noon Wednesday, June 13, Swedish Glee Club, 621 Bevidere St., Waukegan.

If I recall correctly, Mr. Forney, you have had a long record of personnel and industrial safety work. It's a good thing for the State of Illinois that you industrial safety leaders are also interested in the traffic safety field. We need your expert counsel and assistance in dealing with this serious social and economic problem.

I was shocked to note the 95 traffic deaths listed for Lake County in 1961 and I am also familiar with the fact that 2 of every 3 persons killed were residents of Lake County and that most of them happened within a few miles of each resident's home. When you stop to consider that more than 3,200 persons were injured in Lake County traffic accidents last year in nearly 4,800 accidents you begin to realize how serious the situation really is.

Many of these injury accidents barely escaped being turned into fatalities and the loss in terms of human misery and suffering can not be calculated.

Direct costs of traffic accidents, injuries, and deaths last year in Lake County were in excess of $17 million. For the two-year period of 1960 and 1961 it is in excess of $28½ million. How many hospitals would this build?

How many schools? How many of our young people could have a college education with just part of these wasted funds?

It is heartening to have an alert safety commission such as yours come to grips with the traffic accident problem on a local basis. There are no national or state accidents. Each of them is a local accident and most of them are caused by law violations and are preventable when we use methods which have long since been tested and proven.

We have begun the final phase of our State Police training program in Springfield. The Traffic Institute staff of Northwestern University is finishing up a 16-week program to update the state police traffic control and accident prevention program and it will be getting into full swing shortly.

It is particularly appropriate that the Lake County cooperative traffic safety program is beginning at a time when our state police will have the opportunity to test the methods they have learned in school.

It also is significant that you have included the sheriff's office in the local enforcement program contemplated. We are always reminded of the maxim lawyers quote: "Where there is no sheriff, there is no law."

This is particularly true in traffic on secondary roads of the county. Now that you have your county roadway network speed zoned, the sheriff's deputies can enforce the law and do a good job for their constituents. Their activity will certainly show up in the accident totals and we would hope for a substantial reduction of traffic crashes on secondary roads.

You may rest assured that our Coordinating Committee of state officials will do all in its power to give you the needed help at the state level and in Lake County wherever and whenever possible. We are all plagued with a shortage of manpower—trained manpower. But, when we pool our efforts as is demonstrated by your presence here, I am sure we can overcome the handicaps we might otherwise face in an individual effort.

I would hope that the press and radio would assist in every possible way to acquaint travelers in and through Lake County of our new enforcement program so that they can cooperate in making this program a life saving effort.

THE ANTIOCH NEWS THURSDAY, JUNE 26, 1963 TWIST, ANYBODY?

Weather forecast for Twin Lakes on Saturday, June 30: Twisters are forecast. The twisters won't be funnel-shaped clouds, though at times they may appear to be, but teenagers taking advantage of the big "Twistermania" the Wonder Bar has slanted for that night. Aided and abetted by the music of the Continentals, the teens will vie for trophies, while indulging in their favorite indoor sport.

Strenuous exercise and hot humid days are not good mixers—both add to the work of the heart, the Heart Council of Lake County says.

Local Girl Attends Riding Institution

Joanne Paddock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Paddock of Bluff Lake Road, Antioch, Ill., was in Roswell, N. M., from June 4 to 9, attending the Western Clinic for riders held there at Walker Air Force Base Riding Club. The clinic was co-sponsored by Perry-Mansfield Camps and the D.G.W.S. of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, a department of the National Education Association. Miss Paddock is the owner of "Inverak," an Arabian mare, daughter of Azrak and her filly, "Tobruk's Charm." Inverak, with Miss Paddock up, has won a first in Western performance at the Indiana All-Arabian Horse Show and first in both English and Western Pleasure Classes at the Wisconsin All-Arabian Horse Show.

The Western Clinic was primarily for leaders of 4-H and other junior riding groups and for riding teachers in schools and camps. Instructors were Suzanne Norton Jones and Casey Dar-

Shannon, leader of the 4-H Riding Club at Clinton, Ark., and head of the riding department of Perry-Mansfield. Riders attended from Colorado, Texas, and New Mexico, as well as from as far east as Illinois.

The success of the clinic at Roswell has resulted in plans for several clinics of this type, including one at Perry-Mansfield Camps, Steamboat Springs, Colo., July 29, 30 and 31.

A summer vacation is to be enjoyed. Don't strain yourself to impress others or to prove you're still the athlete you were at age 20. Participate in sports that match your physical fitness, cautions the Heart Council of Lake County.

Carpentier's Office Collects 100 Million

Springfield, Ill.—Revenue collected by the Secretary of State's office passed the $100 million mark during May, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier reported.

The total for the first five months of the year was $102,456,001.34. It was only four years ago that the figure first exceeded $100 million for an entire year, Mr. Carpentier said. The 1958 total was $101,930,727.68.

Increases were noted in almost all categories, Secretary Carpentier said. Between 1958 and 1961, motor vehicle registration fees went from $83 million to $99 million; certificate of title fees, ties registration fees, from $10 million to $17 million; franchise fees and taxes, from $5.7 million to $7 million; securities registration fees, from $146,000 to $269,000 and Index Division fees, from $74,000 to $87,000.

The Safety-Responsibility Division collected $168,000 in 1961 in reinstatement fees for drivers licenses suspended following accidents involving uninsured drivers. This fee did not exist in 1958, as it was enacted by the 1959 session of the General Assembly.
